Tim's recent trip to Louisiana by Tim Mitchell

I made my latest trip to Louisiana mid November with the intention of seeing those customers that I just recently met at this year's August Trade Show as well as friends from past visits. It's getting more difficult every year, as new customers come on board, to track everyone down without ignoring those known for what seems forever.

Still this was a great trip and my apologies go out to those that were sending me addresses and directions up to the '11th hour' that were missed.

Besides returning home to some decent surf I came away from this trip with some really much appreciated sales and the realization that 'Community' coffee with chicory is without a doubt my favorite coffee and another reason to begin planning another trip.

These beautiful Mini Cattleya come out of Thailand. They are packed 30-40 per carton with an one carton minimum. Mini Cattleya is very hardy, vigorous and easy to grow for everyone. These plants are grown from tissue culture and are shipped bare rooted. We can supply year round but the best season is from May to August.
