Frequently Asked Questions

- 1. What is the minimum? 1 box, that's it! We don't have a large minimum from this supplier, you can order one box and that's ok. There are several plants offered by this vendor that we can order as assorted as well.
- 2. When do we ship? We typically ship our Thailand plants the second week of each month. These dates can change due to national holidays and flight availability.
- 3. When do I have to place my orders? The lead time is 30 days. For example, if you need the order shipped in October, you need to place your order by the end of August. This allows time for the plants to be pulled, washed, dried, etc.
- 4. Are there extra charges? The prices listed in the catalog are FOB: Miami, FL. Additional charges that would be incurred include ground/air freight to your nursery and cartage to the airport, if shipping air. For customers outside of the continental United States, forwarding and Phytosanitary Certificate charges would also apply.
- 5. Are there restrictions for international shipping? No, unless your country requires spray treatments for the plants to obtain a Phytosanitary Certificate, as we are unable to do that in Miami. We will need a separate permit from your Ministry of Agriculture, which states that the plants originate in Thailand. We will do our best to consolidate with your other orders, but consolidation can't be guaranteed, as shipping dates from our Thailand supplier can change due to flight availability.
